Corrigendum for the advertisement for post of Junior Research Fellow (1)

Corrigendum for Advertisement File No. AIIMS/BPL/Pharm/21/422

In reference to the advertisement for the post of a Junior Research Fellow in the ICMR funded research project titled "Preclinical studies of interaction between commonly used oral allopathic and commercial ayurvedic formulations in models of diabetes in rats", due to the large volume of eligible applications received, a screening test (written) will be held to shortlist candidates before appearing in personal interview and skill test.

As a result of publishing this corrigendum related to mode of selection, the last date of submitting applications is hereby extended to 18th October, 2021, 5 PM.

New date of screening / interview / skill test: 26th October, 2021

All the other conditions of the advertisement remain the same.

Applicants are strongly advised to carefully go through all the conditions / criteria (including essential and desirable) laid down in the advertisement.
