

Centre for Medical education Technology
All India Institute of Medical Sciences Bhopal

Workshop on communication skills

1st January 2017

Resource persons: CMET Faculty

A workshop on communication skills as a part of internship training programme was conducted on first January 2017 in afternoon session at CMET wing of AIIMS Bhopal.

Thirty two students of first intern batch of AIIMS Bhopal participated in the workshop.

The students were divided in four groups. Videos highlighting the different attributes of communication skills between doctor and patient and their relatives and also between doctor and other hospital staff.

WHO guidelines for communication skills and its importance in day to day practice of a physician were deliberated upon. In the end students presented four role plays followed by extensive discussions on communication in a healthcare setting.

